WELCOME TO THE VIRTUAL REAL ESTATE SEMINAR SERIES hosted by the Institute of Real Estate & Urban Studies (IREUS), NUS Department of Real Estate, the Asian Real Estate Society (AsRES), and the MIT Center for Real Estate. We meet once a fortnight on Tuesdays (time depending on the location of the speaker) on Zoom. The meeting aims to be structured like a regular seminar, with light moderation and opportunities to ask questions during the presentation. The Zoom link to each seminar will be made available on email for registered users, before the start of the session.

The series will cover papers in the following and related areas: Residential and commercial real estate, Urban economics, Real estate finance, REITs, Behavioural issues, International finance and investment, Valuation, Real estate technology, Applications of machine learning and artificial intelligence. We are looking forward to extensive interaction and wide participation from different parts of the world.
